

Innovation in Psychology, Inaugural issue, 2018

Innovation in Psychology is a publication of the University of Guelph-Humber, Psychology program. Innovation in Psychology is an open access, peer reviewed journal that publishes empirical and theoretical papers on all aspects of psychology.

Editor-in-Chief

Masood Zangeneh, Ph.D.

Editorial board members

David Danto, Ph.D.

Adam Sandford, Ph.D, OCT.

Julie Goldenson, Ph.D.

Peter K. Papadogiannis, Ph.D.

Maggie Stein (student representative)

Holly Boyne (student representative)

Tasmie Sarker (student representative)

Jocelyn Sommerfeld (student representative)

Innovation in Psychology, Inaugural issue, 2018

TOC.....	1
Editorial..... Zangeneh, M.	2
Welcome..... Danto, D., Walsh, J.	3
Intimate Partner Violence and Suicidal Behavior: Mediating Roles of Forgiveness and Depression..... Montgomery, M., Turner, A., McKinney, J., Kaniuka, A., Brooks, B., Webb, J., and Hirsch, J.K.	4
No Separation: Community and Non-Dual Psychology..... Reid, D and Leighton, T.	30
Impact of Missile Attacks on Israeli Youth Health and Well-Being..... Pruginin, I. and Berman, I.	50
Teacher Nonverbal Immediacy and Student Perceived Learning: The Mediating Role of Student Emotional Experiences..... Barron, C.	62
The Unspoken Talk: An Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis of Undergraduate Students’ Self-Talk and how it Influences their Academic Experience..... Rende, C.	83
Patient Oriented Research: An Approach to Advancing the Addictions Arena..... McPherson, C. and Boyne, H.	102
Post-Secondary Student Resilience: An Annotated Bibliography..... Boyne, H.	114